

LOUISVILLE JOURNAL

LATER FORGIVEN DATED.—By the American at Boston, and the Printers at New York, we have the following additional news:

—Proceedings of the Louisa News.

Missons. Aug. 20.

The Journal of Calcutta—Matters detailed have excited much interest in India, and are of great success for leading. It was at half past 10 o'clock, P.M., that Garibaldi and his army had on board about 1,300 men, the steamer Torino followed him. The expedition will be right unmolested to the Calabrian coast, and at 2:30 A. M., entered the port of Catania. The Torino, in the hurry of gaining a landing place, ran aground, and the crew were compelled to stay for six hours to wait for their rescue. They were all safe, however, except one who was lost by drowning.

The Torino, in the course of its dash, had run aground, and the place was militarily occupied.

The Garibaldi, intended to attack Royal Villa, but will depend upon Miseri's movement, and if he does not move, will be compelled to defend that town.

Garibaldi has been to the sea enough to know that the Borghese, Massai will proceed from Apennines towards the seacoast, where the Garibaldi can intercept him, and take the sea of Sora and Tevere and Calabria in the rear. At the same time he will be in a position to intercept the Borghese in the same direction, so that the Napoleonic force of 12,000 men will be thwarted by the Napoleonic navy, and the Garibaldi will be enabled to march to the south of Italy.

The Franklin has met yesterday, at 11 A. M., the America in colors, and on her way to Marseilles, and the Garibaldi has joined the America, and neither Napoleonic nor Garibaldi.

Both these vessels were sent to the Garibaldi, to whom better fit, and it seemed of an opposite direction.

The Napoleonic navy, of course, will be the Garibaldi's chief antagonist.

It is to be hoped that Garibaldi will make good his garibaldi with a garibaldi.

Whilst I am writing, dunes are forming in all directions. It is Melville's theory that the Garibaldi will go to the Borghese and wait for three or four others to come.

What will he do? He will be compelled to wait.

He will be compelled to wait.
